

Rain, Puddles and Sunshine

A Journey through story telling.

Mike is off on his first ever big adventure. The sun is out. It's warm without a cloud in the sky, so all Mike needs is sunscreen, his big yellow sun hat, his blue jacket and drink bottle and he is ready to go.

But..... Oh No.

The weather has changed and Mike has to find his red umbrella, gumboots and he'll still need his water bottle.

However, when the weather changes again, Mike knows something is just not right. He has to put his first ever big adventure on hold as he gets to the bottom of this wacky weather dilemma. As his sunscreen gets itself lost, his socks go dancing and his gumboots decide that they can fly, Mike finds himself in a muddle and he is going to need everyone's help to sort out what is going on, on this most unusual day.

With its colourful projections, puppets and zany props this beautiful, whimsical tale of adventure, is designed to teach kindergarten aged children about the weather, making friends and both the primary and secondary colours.

Purple Capsicum Puppets. After the great success of their first kindergarten show 'Shape Station' Mike has built a new show once again especially for the 2 to 5 year olds. Over the past ten years Mike and Beth have performed their four primary school shows across Australia, toured overseas to puppet festivals across Europe as well performing in kindergartens across Australia.
