

Tum Tum Tinker

Join Mark Penzak and BlueBoat theatre in a charming performance specially designed for audiences aged 2 to 6, that's bursting with fun stories, puppets, comedy and a very special wheelbarrow.

Using a sliver from the sword Excalibur, TumTumTinker makes magic shoes such as Cinderella's slippers and Puss-In-The-Boot's boots. And he also tells stories - like RumRum the Fisherman who sails the ocean on a wooden clog to steal the World's Biggest Pearl - with dangerous results. Then there's the story of PlumPlum, a girl who's so football mad she wears out her boots. And then when TumTum repairs them, she stops practising because she thinks they're magic. Naturally it all goes horribly wrong and so TumTum explains that the best magic is the kind everyone can make - the magic that's created by hard work, practice and trying your best.

The show finishes with everyone getting the chance to play with their own shoes, when the audience has a foot tapping race with TumTum and his speedy accordion.

What pre-schools have said:

Mark put on a marvellous show for our age group of 3/4 year olds. He captured their attention and involved the children in his show. The children appeared to love the show, laughing and contributing along the way. Engaging and age appropriate for our children.

Louis Bell. The Avenue Childrens Centre. Balaclava. VIC.

The children seemed to really enjoy Tum Tum, his jokes and the various stories and props. As the younger children (2-3) attended, he was able to adjust appropriately. The children really engaged with the stories and enjoyed watching the light story and balloon animals. He was great. Really engaging stories and props.

Beth. Apple Cottage Child Care Centre. Eastwood. NSW.
