Dance For The Fun Of It

You don't have to be a Dancer to Dance!

Dance For The Fun Of It looks at a multitude of different dance genres. Some dances like Hip Hop, Melbourne Shuffle, Conga, The Sailor's Hornpipe, Ballroom, and Ballet are explored in some depth, while others like Macarena, Gangnam Style, Hokey Pokey, Chicken Dance, Whip and Nae Nae are each danced for less than a minute in three different dance mash-ups. These fun, zappy dance medleys also include longer segments of Disco, Nut Bush City Limits, Popping & include audience participation. The finale, a dance routine choreographed to the 1970's hit Kung Fu Fighting, is always a great hit.

With most dance styles it is as much about the clothing worn as the dance. Melbourne Shufflers love their phat pants, jeans with metre wide legs decorated with outrageous designs that reflect light. There are seven elements to Hip Hop, dance and fashion are just the beginning.

Ballroom dancers are more formal in their fashion and Alistair joins everyone in a good laugh as he relives his first gangly foray into the world of Classical Ballet. Dance For The Fun Of It convinces students dancing is great exercise & great fun for everyone.
