G'Day Asia

Asian stories, celebrations, animals, culture and daily life.

In this engaging introduction to Asia, students get to participate in traditional cultural ceremonies & colourful contemporary celebrations.

Depending on whether you are in Bali on Nyepi day, China for New Year or at the Imperial Japanese Court for an audience with the Emperor and Empress, will determine whether you have special clothes to wear, flags to fly, effigies to burn, protocols to observe or huge dragons to manipulate and lots of noise to make.

No matter which country we are in, Mischievous Monkey will pop up to tell us "I've got relatives who live here". Elephant elaborates on life in India and Thailand while shy Panda and Orangutan tell how their small families need help to survive. These four are joined by other more traditional puppets and masks from an Asia past.

With older audiences, wealth is discussed in age appropriate terms. Will you pay a little or hundreds, or even thousands of the local currency for a burger? Do most children live in houses with flushing toilets, TVs and computers?

This eclectic collection with its humorous stories, vivid imagery and loads of audience involvement is designed to leave your students with a lasting impression from the broad canvas that is Asia.
