The Drought Song

A long time ago it was so so hot
The plants tried to grow
But they could not

The grass went yellow, then yellow to brown
No water to be seen
For miles around

The drought got worse it dragged on for years
Everyone sweated
from their nose to their ears

The roos were thirsty, the birds were too
Even the fish
Didn't know what to do

What they wouldn't do for just one drink
No one could shower
Boy did they stink

The land was cracked it was terribly dry
It was not much longer
'til they all would die!

Digging all day at the Goldfields

In eighteen hundred and fifty four
I grew so sick of being poor
So I left my job in Melbourne town
Digging all day at the goldfields.

I turned my frown upside down
Laced up my boots all leather brown
Bought a pickaxe, shovel too
Digging all day at the goldfields.

At first I didn't know what to do
I dug so hard, I thought I'd spew
I hope I dig up more than rocks
Digging all day at the goldfields.

CHORUS

Spoken: Alright I need you all to repeat after me
Singing A-yooooo (A-yooooo)
A-yooooo (A-yooooo)
A-yooooo (A-yooooo)
Digging all day at the goldfields.

I pulled myself up by my socks
Got nothin' but my scrapes and knocks
Things here aren't so okie-doke
Digging all day at the goldfields.

I ain't found nothing I'm going broke
I'm one unlucky, dirty bloke
No gold, no cash I'm feeling dumb
Digging all day at the goldfields.

Singing no gold (no gold!)
Singing just rocks (just rocks!)
Singing so poor (so poor!)
Digging all day at the goldfields
DIGGING ALL DAY AT THE GOLDFIELDS!
