

Curriculum Relevance: Literacy. Creative Writing. Working Together as a Group.

In this completely interactive performance, the entire audience gets to not only create an original 24 line rap song but also perform and record it.

To get the process started Andy offers your students the choice of two opening lines. Once they have chosen the first line, every word of this rap song comes from your students. With the first line written, Andy chooses two students, one to be in charge of the white board and to the other student he gives a microphone.

Next Andy takes the audience through the process of creating a character; of course you're going to need a lively, colourful character to keep your audience entertained. The school uniform is perfect for school but possibly not the best attire to wear when you are standing out front of your own Rap group. Luckily Andy has a few bits and pieces that will help create the right look.

As the audience create the lines to this original rap masterpiece, Andy has a few more surprises in store. You see Andy Jones has a new FX Processor and he can't wait to try it out so when our emerging Rap Star's voice is fed through the FX Processor the effect is utterly hilarious. Of course it just wouldn't be an Andy Jones show without music, loads of laughs and heaps of fun.

Andy Jones. As a singer/songwriter Andy with his band The Funky Monkeys has recorded with ABC Music, EMI, Festival Records and PolyGram. As an Author he has been published by HarperCollins Publishers and ABC Books.

In a career spanning across many years Andy has continuously written, recorded, published and performed his work to the audience its intended for. In every state capital in Australia and from huge crowds celebrating New Year's Eve on the shore of Sydney Harbour to libraries in far north Queensland, Andy has the appropriate energy to get any audience totally engaged.

Andy has written books for 6 year olds to young teenagers including 'The Adventures of Scooterboy and Skatergirl', 'The Awesome Book of Rap, Rhyme and Putrid Poetry' and his 'Hot Jokes for Cool Kids' series of books alone has sold over one and a half million copies world-wide.

What schools have said:

One of the best I've seen yet. Very popular due to the involvement of the students (teachers involved too!).
Annette Barker. South Dubbo Public School. Dubbo NSW.

Children and teachers enjoyed a very entertaining session with Andy. Great Value!
